Item	Discussion
Key Takeaways	Key Takeaways The Age-Friendly Louisville housing workgroup met to discuss housing accessibility challenges and policy recommendations. Jecorey presented detailed research on housing policies and accessibility gaps. Liz shared insights on her accessible housing data collection project (Gathering Strength) showing a significant gap between needed and available accessible units. The group discussed advocacy opportunities around current legislation, including property tax relief for seniors and tenant rights, with Tony offering to present on the Roof Over Head initiative at the next meeting. The workgroup also reviewed their resource list and learned about AARP's Community Challenge Grant program, which offers funding for small community projects focused on improving accessibility and safety.

Agenda Item 1*Presentation by Jecorey
Arthur*Kentucky Affordable Housing Crisis Analysis (Housing Action Plan: Goal 1, Action 3)

Goal 1: Complete a valid analysis of currently accessible housing units considering financial metrics.

- Action 3: Examine current housing policies and practices to ensure they comply with Fair Housing Act standards, focusing on non-discrimination and accessibility.

Jecorey presented findings from his analysis of Kentucky's affordable housing situation, highlighting that over 170,000 renters at extremely low income levels face a severe shortage of affordable housing, with nearly 70% being severely cost burdened using several sources by The National Low Income Housing Coalition, AARP Long-Term Services and Support Scorecard, partner interview, the general assembly and the Mayor's legislative agenda. Insights from interviews held with housing partners (Christie McCravy (Executive Director) / Louisville Affordable Housing Trust Fund, Laura Grabowski (Executive Director) / Louisville Metro Office of Housing and Community Development, Elizabeth Strojan (Executive Director) / Louisville Metro Housing Authority, George Eklund* (Director of Education and Advocacy) / The Coalition for the Homeless, Melissa Weinstein* (Advocacy Director) / Legal Aid Society, Tony Curtis (Executive Director) / Metro Housing Coalition, Jessica Bellamy (Organizer) / People United for Social Housing, Kentucky Tenants* (KY Tenants) on the topic were presented, identifying key issues including accessibility standards, funding needs, and the importance of proactive fair housing enforcement. The discussion also covered legislative initiatives in the General Assembly, including property tax relief measures for elders, and explored potential partnerships with organizations like AARP and the Center for Accessible Living to address housing needs for seniors.

Housing Supply and Accessibility Solutions

Jecorey presented on housing supply and regulatory reform, including building code moratoriums, commercial space conversion, and tenant rights. He outlined recommendations such as advocating for property tax evaluation freezes, exploring incentives for seniors to downsize, and implementing tax credits for home modifications. Elizabeth highlighted the growing need for accessible housing as the baby boomer generation ages, noting a significant gap between the number of wheelchair-using households and accessible units. Tanya expressed support for Jecorey's work and mentioned attending an AARP training to prepare for advocacy on housing issues.

	Senior Housing Funding Challenges The group discussed affordable housing challenges for seniors, particularly those living at or below 30% area median income. Jecorey shared insights from conversations with various stakeholders about limited services and funding issues, including a 10% reduction in public housing funding. Elizabeth inquired about Section 202 funding for supportive housing in Kentucky, with Tony noting a proposed $100 million increase at the federal level. The group also touched on low-income housing tax credits and the challenges of funding small-scale housing projects for non-profits. Age-Friendly Louisville Housing Recommendations <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1.
